W.I.P Odd Hours

Live late-night radio with RJ Sarthak, broadcast from a room you can walk into.

Created by Baan G and RJ Sarthak. Produced by W.I.P Labs.

W.I.P Odd Hours at W.I.P aDDa, August 2026

About

W.I.P Odd Hours is a late-night radio session that you can attend in person. When commercial noise subsides, W.I.P aDDa becomes a low-lit listening room: unscripted conversation, improvised sound and music, broadcast live and free of advertising.

It is led by Baan G with RJ Sarthak, who has spent more than three decades in Delhi radio, from 102.6 FM to HIT 95 to Radio ISHQ. Together they want to bring back what made radio radical: a shared, human-curated listening space, with room for voices that commercial formats leave out.
